PRP-SHOT
♀

What are PRP-Shots?

A PRP-shot is a non-surgical procedure that uses the growth factors each woman has in her own body to stimulate vaginal and clitoral areas to activate the female orgasm system. This in turn can rejuvenate vaginal tissue by improving growth factors at a cellular level.

How can it help me?

The PRP-shot can help you experience greater sexual pleasure or improve Urinary Incontinence issues due to childbirth.

How it works

The procedure uses the patients' drawn blood to stimulate vaginal and clitoral rejuvenation, according to Eterna M.D. Medical Rejuvenation Center. Platelets extracted from the blood, or platelet-rich plasma (PRP), are then placed in a syringe and injected into an area near the clitoris and an area just inside the vagina — the "o-spot." Those platelets then stimulate the growth of new cells in the injected areas, making those areas more sensitive to the touch. Doctors say the PRP-shot improves orgasm, libido, and arousal.

What has been said...

Doctors believe that the PRP shot is the answer to a problem plaguing many women, especially those experiencing sexual dysfunction after giving birth.

Patients seem to be happy with the results, describing the treatment as “a home run” and “amazing.”
